Introduction to the 2011-2013 Report

Welcome to the Department of Medicine at Michigan University. The Department is home to an award-winning faculty and many wonderful programs. We are small enough to give individual attention to students and housestaff, yet large enough to create a national reputation for excellence in teaching and research. The Department is proud to be part of the College of Human Medicine, a top tier community-based medical school. Department faculty members teaching medical students on seven campuses throughout Michigan supervise five affiliated or sponsored residencies in internal medicine and provide fellowship training in key subspecialties. Rooted in the community, the Department strives to improve the health of populations and individuals.

Mission and Vision

The Department of Medicine is a community of physicians and scholars engaged in improving the health and well-being of individuals and populations.

Our mission is to advance the field of Medicine through education, inquiry, research and service, including patient care. In doing so, we strive to embrace diversity, challenge and opportunity.

We envision a vibrant Department that is recognized for excellence.

In pursuing our vision, we strive to:

- Develop, recruit and retain talented faculty
- Be known throughout the country for high quality medical education
- Create new knowledge through research and innovation
- Provide clinical care that is evidence-based and patient centered
- Respect cultural diversity in our patients, our learners, and our community
- Serve the higher mission of the College, the University and the community.

In pursuing our mission, the following values are held to be important:

- Respect for patients, students, staff and colleagues
- The ability to receive and nurture new ideas
- Ethical conduct in research and service.
